Military and Government Counseling Association

What is MGCA?

MGCA is an association whose members provide counseling and education programs and services for members of the Veteran military community as well as other government agencies at the federal, state, or local level. MGCA provides a network to serve the professional needs of its members via affiliation with the 50,000+ members of the American Counseling Association (ACA) and the divisions of ACA.

MGCA was organized to:

- Encourage, deliver, and participate in meaningful guidance, counseling, and education programs for all persons.
- Encourage, develop, facilitate, and promote professional development activities for administrators, counselors, and education services providers, whether employed by governmental agencies, private contractors or colleges and universities serving the military and Veterans.
- Develop and promote the highest standards of professional conduct among administrators, counselors, and education services providers, whether employed by governmental agencies, private contractors or colleges and universities serving the military and Veterans.
- Establish and maintain full communications networks among such professionals.
- Conduct professional development activities on topics related to members' specialized work settings.
- Foster and encourage participation and involvement of MGCA members with members of ACA and its divisions at conferences, including regional and state ACA branch, and division conferences in order to promote exchanges of knowledge, information and expertise.

Who Joins MGCA?

Among members are:

- Those providing counseling, education, assessment or other support activities or services to first responders, civilian government employees, pre-service active duty, reserve, or Veterans such as education services officers, counselors, family services, transition, relocation, family advocacy specialists, chaplains, drug and alcohol and rehabilitation counselors and any other related professional, whether employed by a government agency, private contractor or colleges and universities serving this population.

Benefits of Joining MGCA

Beside the benefits of ACA membership, MGCA provides members with:

- The MGCA E-letter (electronic), is sent to members to share news of importance.

- Networks among professionals with similar interests via website links and other means.
- Workshops and training seminars typically offered in conjunction with the ACA Conference & Expo.
- A yearly Professional Development Institute (PDI) during the Pre-conference Learning Institute at the ACA Conference & Expo.
- Access to the MGCA Online Journal of Military and Government Counseling (<http://mgcaonline.org>) to review peer reviewed counseling and educational articles.
- Networking with MGCA on Facebook (<https://www.facebook.com/acaaceg>)
